Regulations

1 Title

These regulations are the Biosecurity (Meat and Food Waste for Pigs) Regulations 2005.

2 Commencement

These regulations come into force on the 28th day after the date of their notification in the Gazette.

3 Purpose

The purpose of these regulations is to reduce the risk to New Zealand and its livestock industries of an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease and other diseases—

- (a) by prohibiting the feeding to pigs of untreated meat or food waste containing untreated meat; and
- (b) by regulating the collection and distribution of, and trade in, meat and food waste for feeding to pigs.

4 Interpretation

In these regulations, unless the context otherwise requires,—

Act means the Biosecurity Act 1993

animal means any member of the animal kingdom other than a human being

Director-General means the chief executive of the Ministry of Agriculture and Forestry edible means edible by pigs

food waste—

- (a) means any edible food waste; and
- (b) includes—
 - (i) food prepared for human consumption:
 - (ii) substances prepared to be used as ingredients in food for human consumption:
 - (iii) edible waste from food prepared for human consumption (for example, waste from households, hostels, commercial accommodation, or institutions, or from supermarkets, restaurants, or other businesses):

- (iv) edible waste from food manufacturing processes (for example, broken biscuits, misshapen pies, or bruised fruit):
- (v) edible by-products from manufacturing processes (for example, brewer's grain)

meat—

- (a) means any live or dead animal, or any tissue or other material taken or derived from an animal; but
- (b) does not include eggs, milk, or rendered material

pig means an animal of the genus Sus

rendering means the processing of by-products from slaughtered animals using heat to produce—

- (a) fat (tallow); and
- (b) processed animal protein (for example, meat and bone meal)

treated means—

- (a) heated to 100°C for 1 hour; or
- (b) treated to a standard approved by the Director-General and notified in the Gazette

untreated food waste—

- (a) means food waste that is or contains untreated meat; and
- (b) includes food waste that has come into contact with other food waste that is or contains untreated meat untreated meat means meat that has not been treated.

5 Person must not feed pig untreated meat or untreated food waste

- (1) A person must not feed, or allow, cause, or permit any other person to feed, a pig untreated meat or untreated food waste.
- (2) A person must not allow, cause, or permit a pig to eat untreated meat or untreated food waste.

6 Person must not collect, distribute, or trade untreated meat or untreated food waste for or intended for feeding to pigs

- (1) A person must not collect, distribute, or trade untreated meat or untreated food waste for, or intended for, feeding to pigs.
- (2) Subclause (1) does not apply if the person believes, on reasonable grounds, that the untreated meat or untreated food waste will be treated before it is fed to the pigs.

7 Duty of certain people to report on suspected breaches of regulations

- (1) This regulation applies to the following people:
- (a) inspectors and authorised persons under the Act; and
 - (b) inspectors appointed under—
 - (i) section 60 of the Agricultural Compounds and Veterinary Medicines Act 1997; and
 - (ii) section 124 of the Animal Welfare Act 1999 (excluding a constable); and
 - (c) food safety officers under the Food Act 2014; and
 - (d) animal product officers appointed under section 78 of the Animal Products Act 1999.
- (2) A person must report any potential or suspected breach of these regulations to the Director-General as soon as is reasonably practicable.

Regulation 7(1)(b)(ii): amended, on 1 October 2008, pursuant to section 116(a)(ii) of the Policing Act 2008 (2008 No 72).

Regulation 7(1)(c): amended, on 1 March 2016, by section 447 of the Food Act 2014 (2014 No 32).

8 Strict liability offences

- (1) Every person commits an offence who breaches regulation 5 or regulation 6(1).
- (2) In any proceedings for an offence, it is not necessary for the prosecution to prove that the defendant intended to commit the offence.
- (3) It is a defence in any proceedings for an offence if the defendant proves that—
- (a) the breach was due to an event or cause beyond the control of the defendant, including natural disaster, mechanical failure, or sabotage; and
 - (b) the defendant took all reasonable steps to ensure that the offence was not committed.
- (4) A defendant is entitled to rely on an event or cause beyond the control of the defendant, as part of a defence under subclause (3), only—
- (a) with the leave of the court; or
 - (b) if—
 - (i) the defendant has served on the prosecutor a notice in writing identifying the event or cause relied on by the defendant; and
 - (ii) the notice is served not later than 14 days before the date on which the hearing of the proceedings begins.

Regulation 8(4)(b)(i): amended, on 1 July 2013, by section 413 of the Criminal Procedure Act 2011 (2011 No 81).

9 Penalties

- (1) A person who commits an offence against regulation 8(1) is liable to the penalties specified in section 157(6) of the Act.

- (2) Section 156 of the Act (which relates to the liability of principals and agents) applies to an offence against these regulations.

Diane Morcom,
Clerk of the Executive Council.
