Explanatory memorandum

Note: The following explanatory memorandum should be read in conjunction with the explanatory memorandum(s) appended to the:

- Local Government Elected Members (2009/10) (Except Auckland) Amendment Determination 2010
- Local Government Elected Members (2009/10) (Except Auckland) Amendment Determination 2009.

This memorandum is not part of the determination, but is intended to indicate its general effect.

This determination, which is deemed to have come into force on 1 July 2009, sets the remuneration, allowances, and expenses of elected local government representatives except for those in the Auckland region.

The Local Government Act 2002 requires the Remuneration Authority, in setting remuneration, to have regard to the need to—

- minimise the potential for types of remuneration to distort the behaviour of the elected members:
- achieve and maintain fair relativity with levels of remuneration received elsewhere:
- be fair both to the elected members and ratepayers:
- attract and retain competent persons.

In order to meet its statutory obligations, and in particular to achieve transparency, fairness, and consistency in remuneration-setting across diverse local authorities, the Authority established a model to assist in determining the cost of governance and representation for each local and regional authority. The model incorporates 4 criteria that are transparent and readily verifiable from published data, namely—

- population:
- operational expenditure:
- net assets controlled:
- rate of population change.

This provides the Authority with a ranking order of the relative size of the governance and representation responsibility of each local and regional authority.

The model also allows for the incorporation of a general movement in remuneration to help ensure that adjustments to the salaries of elected representatives reflect not only the size of their roles, but also any market movement in remuneration that the Authority considers should be applied to their salaries.

The application of these factors results in a sum of money (the indicative pool) notionally attributable to each local and regional authority, and from which the remuneration of each elected member will be met.

This determination uses indicative pool totals derived from audited annual accounts for the year ended 30 June 2008 and population figures as at the same date.

The Authority calculated the indicative pool in late 2008, at which stage the economy was slowing, but the seriousness and impact of the external financial crisis was not as apparent as it is currently. The Authority applied a general remuneration movement of 3%, slightly less than the movement in remuneration from 2007 to 2008 that survey and other data were showing.

The incorporation of this general adjustment and the other 4 factors into our model generated changes in the indicative remuneration pools for each local and regional authority ranging from an increase of over 8% (atypically for a high-growth council) to negative adjustments in some cases. Where there was a negative movement, the pool was held at the 2008 level.

Councils were then invited to recommend the distribution of the pool for the 2009/10 financial year.

Subsequent to this notification to councils, the Treasury released its post-election financial update. The Government's response to the update emphasised the need for a sustained period of strict control over government expenditure. Part of that response was a call for restraint on movement in remuneration generally, and for senior state sector employees and office-holders. Parliament itself resolved unanimously not to seek any increase in remuneration in 2009/10.

In this context, some councils expressed concerns about increasing the salaries of elected representatives when they also were facing dif-difficult funding choices. The Authority therefore advised all councils in late January that, where there was valid reason and unanimous agreement within a council not to increase salaries of elected members, the Authority would consider a recommendation to defer any increases that would otherwise have applied from 1 July 2009.

Councils have taken a variety of approaches to recommending the allocation of this year's pool. The overwhelming majority have proposed accepting the increase, some have proposed fully utilising the pool by increasing the proportion of community board funding accessed from the pool (and held salaries at the 2008 level), and others have requested that salaries not be increased, and the pool held at the 2008 level.

Where decisions were unanimous or near unanimous, the Authority has accepted them as being a fair balance between the interests of the ratepayers and the elected members.

It has been the long held position of the Authority that neither mayors nor councils can influence the level of mayoral remuneration. However, given the approach taken in responding to councils' recommendations, the Authority accepted recommendations from individual mayors to defer increases in their remuneration this year. In cases where mayors had initially expressed concern, either directly to the Authority or in public statements, at being required to accept an increase, the Authority offered them the opportunity to hold their remuneration. In some cases this opportunity has been accepted.

It is fair to say that in some areas reaching agreement on these issues within a council has been both openly political and fraught; it has also led to delays in releasing this determination.

During the consultation period, the Royal Commission on Auckland Governance issued its report and recommendations, and the Government subsequently announced that a new governance arrangement would be in place from November 2010 onwards. To smooth the process of fixing remuneration in 2010/11, the 8 authorities subject to restructuring have been omitted from this determination, and a separate determination will be issued after discussions with those councils have been concluded.

Vehicle mileage allowance

The Authority has made no change to the level set for this allowance.

Note: The preceding explanatory memorandum should be read in conjunction with the explanatory memorandum(s) appended to the:

Notes

1 General

This is a reprint of the Local Government Elected Members (2009/10) (Except Auckland) Determination 2009. The reprint incorporates all the amendments to the determination as at 30 June 2010, as specified in the list of amendments at the end of these notes.

Relevant provisions of any amending enactments that contain transitional, savings, or application provisions that cannot be compiled in the reprint are also included, after the principal enactment, in chronological order. For more information, see <http://www.pco.parliament.govt.nz/reprints/>.

2 Status of reprints

Under section 16D of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989, reprints are presumed to correctly state, as at the date of the reprint, the law enacted by the principal enactment and by the amendments to that enactment. This presumption applies even though editorial changes authorised by section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 have been made in the reprint.

This presumption may be rebutted by producing the official volumes of statutes or statutory regulations in which the principal enactment and its amendments are contained.

3 How reprints are prepared

A number of editorial conventions are followed in the preparation of reprints. For example, the enacting words are not included in Acts, and provisions that are repealed or revoked are omitted. For a detailed list of the editorial conventions, see <http://www.pco.parliament.govt.nz/editorial-conventions/> or Part 8 of the Tables of New Zealand Acts and Ordinances and Statutory Regulations and Deemed Regulations in Force.

4 Changes made under section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989

Section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 authorises the making of editorial changes in a reprint as set out in sections 17D and 17E of that Act so that, to the extent permitted, the format and style of the reprinted enactment is consistent with current legislative drafting practice. Changes that would alter the effect of the legislation are not permitted. A new format of legislation was introduced on 1 January 2000. Changes to legislative drafting style have also been made since 1997, and are ongoing. To the extent permitted by section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989, all legislation reprinted after 1 January 2000 is in the new format for legislation and reflects current drafting practice at the time of the reprint.

In outline, the editorial changes made in reprints under the authority of section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 are set out below, and they have been applied, where relevant, in the preparation of this reprint:

- omission of unnecessary referential words (such as “of this section” and “of this Act”)
- typeface and type size (Times Roman, generally in 11.5 point)
- layout of provisions, including:
 - indentation
 - position of section headings (eg, the number and heading now appear above the section)
- format of definitions (eg, the defined term now appears in bold type, without quotation marks)
- format of dates (eg, a date formerly expressed as “the 1st day of January 1999” is now expressed as “1 January 1999”)

- position of the date of assent (it now appears on the front page of each Act)
- punctuation (eg, colons are not used after definitions)
- Parts numbered with roman numerals are replaced with arabic numerals, and all cross-references are changed accordingly
- case and appearance of letters and words, including:
 - format of headings (eg, headings where each word formerly appeared with an initial capital letter followed by small capital letters are amended so that the heading appears in bold, with only the first word (and any proper nouns) appearing with an initial capital letter)
 - small capital letters in section and subsection references are now capital letters
- schedules are renumbered (eg, Schedule 1 replaces First Schedule), and all cross-references are changed accordingly
- running heads (the information that appears at the top of each page)
- format of two-column schedules of consequential amendments, and schedules of repeals (eg, they are rearranged into alphabetical order, rather than chronological).
