Explanatory note

This note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These regulations, which come into force on 2 April 2019, amend Schedule 3 of the Residential Care and Disability Support Services Regulations 2018. That schedule lists exempt assets for the purposes of conducting a means assessment to determine a person’s eligibility for financial support for long-term residential care under the Residential Care and Disability Support Services Act 2018. The amendments relate to a Christchurch mosques attack support payment made to a person on or after 2 April 2019 and related income. Their effect is to ensure that the payment and related income are an exempt asset for the purposes of the means assessment.

Issued under the authority of the Legislation Act 2012.
